Blair Cadell Solicitors Edinburgh

"Having painstakingly researched the availability of Practice Management Systems suitable for Scottish Law Firms, we decided on LawWare.

We are very pleased that we made this decision. The software caters for all aspects of our Practice and is extremely easy to operate. The standard of training and lack of disruption, during the installation particularly impressed me."

"An effective and comprehensive system at a sensible price was the priority when selecting a new practice management system.

Our experience with the LawWare system has exceeded our expectations. It has given large savings in administrative time whilst improving our records. It allows us to develop our use of the system in the way our practice requires.

We are also pleased with the support services. The recent review and rationalisation has given satisfaction all round"

"Having been involved closely with the product from its early days, a vital factor to us as a comparatively small practice was the knowledge that LawWare was developed in close conjunction with the Law Society of Scotland and complies with their strict accreditation rules, which provides us with a strong sense of reliance on the product's suitability.

The System represents incredible value for money without any compromise in functionality or on-going support and service.

I would have absolutely no hesitation in recommending LawWare to any firm considering computerised Practice Management for the first time, or replacing an existing Cash Accounting System"
